INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHINA'S AND ITALY'S PARTICIPATION IN PEACE-KEEPING OPERATIONS: BRINGING CONFUCIAN HARMONY TO A MACHIAVELLIAN WORLD?

Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna, Pisa, Italy, 7 – 8 June 2012

China moved in the last two decades from a position of scepticism and opposition based on the idea of non-interference in the other State's sovereignty, to a constantly increasing involvement in the United Nations PKOs; up to the extent that today it is the major troops contributing country among the permanent members of the UN Security Council. Italy, differently, has offered its steady engagement from the very beginning of the history of peacekeeping operations, developing such an expertise that, nowadays, its contribution is often labelled as the "Italian way of peacekeeping". The conference intends to discuss, in a comparative way, the Italian and Chinese experiences, focusing on their ways of contributing to the peacekeeping and peace building operations; on the lessons learned so far, in the view of the mutual benefits that could derive from a tighter harmonisation of their efforts; and on the best ways to face the challenges that are shaping the international scenario. The conference will be, moreover, a priceless opportunity for all the participants to learn more about Confucianism, its influences on the contemporary world and the fundamental importance of its guide principles for the achievement of a durable peace.
