

Seminar

Human Rights under Occupation: A Dialogue with the UN Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Palestinian territories occupied since 1967

Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna | Pisa
16 March 2023, 10.30
Aula Magna

Introduction

Francesca Capone, Professor of International Law, Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna,
The Israeli occupation in context: historical and legal milestones

Keynote speech

Francesca Albanese, UN Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Palestinian territories occupied since 1967, Occupied Palestine: the need for a paradigm shift

Discussants

Massimo Iovane, Professor of International Law, University of Naples Federico II,
Tackling the impasse: In defence of a negotiated agreement as a way out from the Israeli-Palestinian conflict (online)

Antonio Bultrini, Professor of International Law, University of Florence, Third-party approaches to international law violations in the OPTs

Moderation

Emanuele Sommario, Professor of International Law, Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna

Q&A

Contacts:
Emanuele Sommario
e.sommario@santannapisa.it

English will be the working language. Due to the limited availability of seats, those interested in attending who are not working/studying at the Scuola are kindly requested to book a place by contacting the organizers. The event will be streamed online on the Scuola's Youtube Channel.